

Bath County Circuit Court in Session

The fall term of the Bath circuit court began Monday with Judge H. R. Prewitt on the bench and C. W. Nesbitt representing the Commonwealth in the absence of W. C. Hamilton, regular Commonwealth's Attorney. There were some unimportant cases tried Monday, after the court had given the grand jury the usual instruction. The case of Ann E. Wyatt against the C. & O. Railroad Company was entered into on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Wyatt had sued the railroad company for $3,000 damages for injuries sustained while she was trying to get off a passenger train at Stepstone, alleging that she was not given sufficient time to get off. The jury was given the case Monday night for the plaintiff, giving her $318.

The case against John Wilson, who is under indictment for shooting Oscar Kinsolving with intent to kill, was called Tuesday.

Building Permit Denied Standard Oil Company

At the regular meeting of the City Council held Tuesday night a permit was asked by the Standard Oil Co. to build a refilling station on a lot of N. H. Trimble on the corner of East Main street and Wilson alley, on which it held an option. The residents in this section of the city objected strenuously and had prepared a petition asking the council to refuse to grant a building permit. Capt. C. H. Petry, a member of the council, argued that the station which would be just across the street from the Methodist church would disturb religious worship and thereby be a nuisance. After several stirring speeches had been made both for and against granting the permit, Councilman McNeal made a motion that the council grant same, but the motion failed for the lack of a second and was not put to a vote.

The apportionment ordinance was passed accepting the recently completed streets and assessing the amount against each property holder. This ordinance in full will appear in our next issue.

The salary of the mayor was ordered increased from $300 to $600 per year, payable monthly.

No other business of importance was transacted other than granting of the following building permits:

F. D. Richardson to build two-story tenant house on Mill street, combined store house and dwelling on Willow street, and to build an eight-room frame residence on East High street; to W. A. Bondurant to build a dry cleaning plant on Willow street; to N. H. Trimble to build a garage in rear of his property on Johnson avenue; to Mrs. Will Thomas to build residence on Johnson avenue; to Norman Brockway to build residence on Johnson avenue; to William Cravens to build a stable in rear of his lot, and to Mrs. J. R. Triplett to build frame bungalow on South Sycamore street. The permits asked for by Mrs. Jane Rianer and V. K. Williams to build residences were referred to the Improvement Committee with power to act.
